

SCYLLA AND CHARYBDIS

Flotsam and jetsam from wrecked ships toss in the ruinous, rough surf,
Telling a tale of the watery death that awaits in these dire straits.
Jaws gaping down from her stone perch, hideous Scylla, her six heads
Reaching beyond her accursed lair, slashes with murderous sharp teeth.
Nearby Charybdis devours all, ravenous hunger her one thought.
Onward and inward she drags ships, shattering vessels with cruel ease.

Castrati
Eschewer of the Koran (hyph; var.)
Healing agents
How to navigate a whirlpool
It's spent in the UK?
Persuaded
Something not to be criticized (2 wds)
Sportsman reckoning with a map and compass
Without stopping

INWARD

Marks for removal
Lecherous creature
Nobelist Enrico
Professor Lupin
Scandinavian epic
Type of chapeau
Eroded
West Point student
Nephew to Caligula
Temperate
Resigned expression (2 wds)
Absolute
Custard dish
Carpet-cleaning device
Goal
Grill
Travel ala Pocahontas
Gladden
Screen gangster George
Fertility goddess
Chief of the gods, per Wagner

OUTWARD

Multinational military alliance
Fury
It's played with a mezzrab
Goat cheese
Actress Olin
Dangerous bacterium
Sphere
Noxious atmosphere
Everlasting
Worry
Tutu material
Persian Gulf transport
Wheels for the rich
Offer, as a resignation
A clear film
Enter rudely, with "in"
Take for granted
Edge
Convey back and forth
Decorated like loafers

